

Questions on “The Commitment”

1. What is your personal definition of Commitment?

2. How do you see yourself putting your own needs on hold while preparing for the arrival of the baby you are/will be committed to?

3. What are some adjustments that you could make to more fully prepare yourself for commitment?

4. How do you think that you could continue that commitment in the years to come?
