This is us

We met at church about 15 years ago and have been best friends ever since. Together, we love to find adventure through hiking local trails and traveling to new places. We married May of 2008 and both finish our education before we pursued our dream of a family. This will be our greatest adventure yet!!

Lee is a Financial Advisor.
Whitney is a Registered Nurse.
We try and show the love of Christ in everything we do.

Home Sweet Home

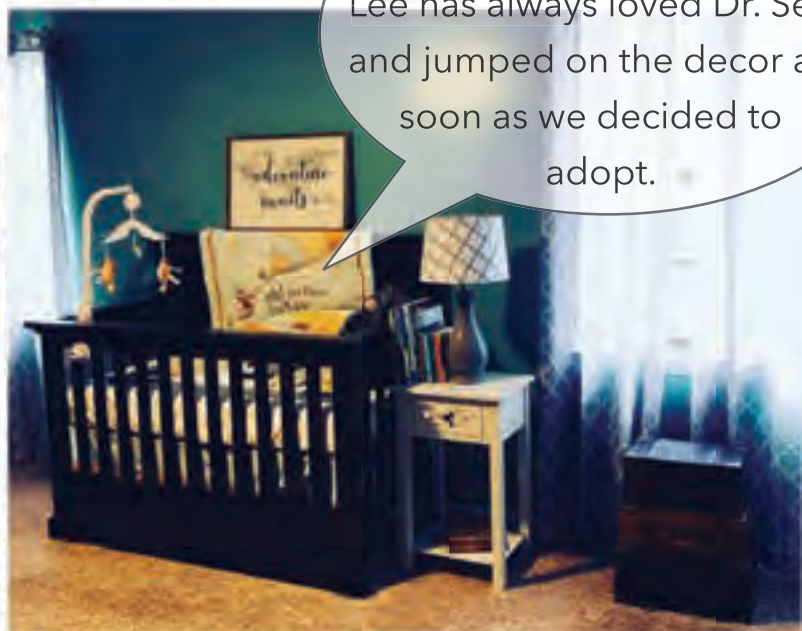

Meet our fur babies, Callie and Cooper!

We don't have to travel far to find fun. Our neighborhood has lots to do: trails, the lake, pool, & playground.

The Nursery is underway! Lee has always loved Dr. Seuss and jumped on the decor as soon as we decided to adopt.

About Lee (By Whitney)

What I love most about Lee...
Well, being married over 11 years there is a lot I love about Lee! He is a great husband and will be an even better father. He makes me laugh and smile daily. He is smart, kind, and outgoing. He is my best friend and was my motivation throughout nursing school. Lee is completely selfless, always putting my needs above his own. He is a great provider for our family, but also knows the importance of family time!

About Whitney (By Lee)

What I love most about Whitney...
She's the wind in my sail and the adventure to my travels. She loves deeper than most, and isn't afraid to show it. She's always looking out for others and trying to make them feel loved and appreciated. She's my "partner in crime" and "travel buddy". I love that we can truly share life together. I know she'll make a great mother because the care she has for those around her and her willingness to put family first. I'm looking forward to the opportunity to start a new adventure of parenthood with her by my side!

Our family and friends are all very supportive of our decision to adopt. They know open adoption not only means a new baby to love on, but also the addition of more extended family members. We believe that the more people a child has to love them, the better off the child will be and we are excited for our family as a whole to grow.

OUR PROMISE TO YOU...

We promise to love your child with all that we have. We will read them bedtime stories and say our prayers at night. We will travel the world, and do everything we can to help this baby to live out his or her dreams. We believe that knowing your heritage and culture is very important. So we are committed to doing all we can to maintain the lines of open communication. We promise to remind him or her of how much you love them, and the amazing gift of life you gave them.
