Our Promise for our Family

We know you are faced with a courageous but difficult decision, and we are thankful and humbled by your consideration. Wanting the best for your child is something we mutually and whole-heartedly share.

We promise that when we grow our family by adding a child, our child's first mom will be a welcome part of our new family portrait, sharing stories, pictures and laughter as we watch this child grow through the years.

We will teach this child how to approach a culture-filled life and its relationships with honesty and compassion, greeting each opportunity with open arms. We are hopeful this child will develop a sense of self-worth, an awareness of the world around us and their importance in it.

We hope our profile has given you some insight into who we are. We would be honored to learn more about you and your family as you consider joining us on our journey.

With love and blessings
